

FATAL ACCIDENT—Pickaway County Sheriff's Auxiliary Deputy Mike McGinnis looks over the scene of a two-car accident which killed one and injured seven others 9:45 p.m. Friday. Thomas W. Powell Jr., 35, Mt. Sterling, became Pickaway County's fifth fatality when the vehicle he was driving went left of center striking a car head-on driven by Susan K. Jackson, 28, Route 2, Mt. Sterling. Powell was pronounced dead with massive head and chest injuries by Dr. Carroll, County Coroner.

Mt. Sterling Man Becomes Fifth Traffic Fatality

A Mt. Sterling man became Pickaway County's fifth traffic fatality of 1975 in a head-on collision, 9:45 p.m. Friday. Investigated by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies.

5 Dead In 1975

Thomas W. Powell Jr., 35, Mt. Sterling, was westbound on Route 56, west of Cockwell Road, rounding a curve when he traveled left of center striking a car head-on driven by Susan K. Jackson, 28, Route 2, Mt. Sterling.

Dr. Ray Carroll, County Coroner, pronounced Powell dead of massive head and chest injuries.

Mrs. Jackson and four children, Jackie A. Houser, 9; Nicole M. Jackson, 1; Harold E. Houser, 5; and Barbara J. Houser, 10 of Route 2, Mt. Sterling, all passengers were treated and released at Berger Hospital for multiple lacerations.

Six-week-old Marcy M. Jackson and four-year-old Michael A. Houser were transferred to Children's Hospital in Columbus with neck injuries. Both are listed in fair condition.

Deputy Fite investigated the accident.

Deputy F. R. McCoy cited 31-year-old Ralph L. Jacobs, 1087 S. Washington St., with driving while intoxicated, failure to yield the right of way and no operator's license, when he was involved in a two-car accident.

Grain Probe May Cancel Butz Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — A trip scheduled by Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz to South America this month has snarled plans to call him before a Senate subcommittee to testify on irregularities in the grain inspection system.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., announced Wednesday that he would hold the hearing on June 19. Aides said Humphrey wanted Butz to be among the early witnesses.

But Butz had scheduled a trip to South America for June 17-25, meaning that he would have to pass up Humphrey's invitation to appear.

Humphrey aides said Friday they were trying to get the hearing changed to an earlier date, possibly June 13, so that Butz could be present.

The Butz trip, which Agriculture Department officials said had been in the works for some time, will include a conference with a U.S. agricultural attaché in Caracas, Venezuela, and then a visit to Brasilia, Sao Paulo, and Rio de Janeiro in Brazil.

Meanwhile, Senate sources said the General Accounting Office, the auditing arm of Congress, has been collecting information for the grain inspection hearing. The information includes what is available from grand juries in New Orleans and Houston, and from the FBI and Agriculture Department investigators who had been probing irregularities in the inspection system for more than a year.

Those investigations have led to nearly a score of indictments, including indictments of federally licensed inspectors and grain samplers. Officials say the probe is continuing.

11:53 p.m. Friday.

Jacobs was eastbound on the Circleville-Tarleton Road when he failed to yield to a southbound vehicle on Kingston Pike, driven by Jerome J. McDonald, 22, 448 Watt St. rear.

McDonald lost control of his auto and struck two mailboxes before coming to rest.

McCoy referred McDonald to a physician for possible neck injuries.

Twenty-three-year-old Michel W. Thomas, Route 5, was cited for failure to maintain an assured clear distance in a two-car accident, 6:16 p.m. Friday.

According to the report taken by Deputy McCoy, Thomas was southbound on Route 23 at Route 316 when he failed to stop striking a stopped car driven by Janet S. Waugh, 27, Marion. No injuries were reported.

Military Weapons Bill Goes Uncut

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $30.3-billion military weapons bill is heading for a SenateHouse conference after surviving a week of budget-cutting assaults in the Senate.

The Senate passed the 15-month authorization measure Friday by a 77-to-6 vote.

The House approved its own $32-billion version of the same weapons procurement and research authorization in May.

President Ford's January budget requested $35.7 billion, including $2.3 billion no longer needed for military assistance in South Vietnam.

Both the House and Senate versions of the bill provide for admission of women to the U.S. military, naval and Air Force academies. The Senate amendment would allow female appointments for classes beginning in July 1976.

The Senate beat down all attempts either to reduce or increase the $30.3 billion recommended by the Senate Armed Services Committee for the 15-month period beginning July 1.

Defeated during the week were amendments to stop development of the B1 supersonic bomber, suspend production of AWACS flying radar aircraft and stop research on programs to improve nuclear missile accuracy and yield, including a terminally guided maneuverable re-entry vehicle (MARV).

Military spending critics won a 43-to-41 vote Friday as the Senate adopted an amendment by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., to forbid any flight testing of MARV unless the Soviet Union carries out flight tests or the president certifies that some other Soviet threat requires it in the national interest.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Committee said the wide margins by which weapons procurement and development reductions were defeated

"represented a substantial victory for a strong defense, and military preparedness."

Also, he said it would strengthen the position of President Ford in future arms control negotiations.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., attributed the defeat of budget-cutting amendments to "the collapse in Southeast Asia and high unemployment at home."

Wrong Name Leads To Jail Sentence

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Rookie lawyer George Ramonas says 19-year-old Roger Williams spent two weeks in jail because someone gave police the wrong name.

The lawyer said Friday a man who was picked out of a police lineup and charged with aggravated robbery and possession of a sawed-off shotgun apparently gave Williams' name and walked out of Cleveland Municipal Court on bond.

He said Williams responded to an order to appear for arraignment May 23, jumped on a bus, went to court and was tossed in jail.

The lawyer said Williams, of Cleveland Heights, had been at a birthday party at the time of the crime and didn't understand why he was in jail.

With the help of court employees and photographs and fingerprints, Ramonas established that Williams was not the wanted man.

The 27-year-old Ramonas says it was his first criminal assignment.

High Schools 'Like Prisons', Medics Say

CHICAGO (AP) — American high schools are like prisons "with guards posing as teachers, and students learning how to be docile prisoners," say two California psychologists.

Craig Haney and Philip G. Zimbardo of Stanford University, writing in Psychology Today, say high school and prison "environments resemble each other to a remarkable and distressing degree."

They said they studied both prisons and high schools for their report.

Like prison guards, teachers have absolute authority over students, and "the teacher's word always counts more than the word of the student," Haney and Zimbardo said.

They said students, like prisoners, are regimented and regulated into docility with roll calls and bells and fixed hallway routes, and classes are run mechanically for fixed periods, "regardless of the natural educational process."

And they said high school students, like prisoners, must obey codes of dress and personal comportment.

"Both prisons and high schools also feel compelled to limit the length of male inmates' hair, as though long hair were some grievous threat to institutional authority," they write.

They describe high school buildings as "huge, stark and architecturally barren," resembling buildings designed for punishment and incarceration.

"Inside the average high school, the drab and depressing interiors clearly

Rhodes Unveils Package To Make Ohio 'Finest'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three months to the day after announcing his intentions, Gov. James A. Rhodes unveiled Friday the revitalized four-point economic package he will ask voters to approve this fall.

The package calls for borrowing $4.5 billion and repaying it through increased sales and gasoline taxes. A similar plan, calling for issuing $4.14 billion in bonds, was rejected by the General Assembly earlier this year.

But the governor, who must gather 307,000 signatures by Aug. 4 to put the proposals on the November general election ballot, apparently is cutting the time element close.

The attorney general, who must rule the ballot language accurately reflects the content on the proposed constitutional amendments, said approval would "take some time," possibly a week, probably less than a month. Rhodes said petitions would begin circulating within 10 days to two weeks after the attorney general's approval.

The governor said the bond package would bring jobs and prosperity to the state, reverse a decline in population and wealth and "make Ohio the finest state in the union."

The package is basically the same as the earlier proposals. But it includes almost $400 million more than that package, including $150 million Rhodes said would go for energy research and development.

The four proposals include: —A $2.75 billion program for capital improvements projects throughout the state, including more than $1.6 billion in direct grants to all Ohio cities, funded by a seven-tenths of a cent increase in the sales tax.

—A $1.75 billion bond package for transportation projects, funded by a nine-tenths of a cent per gallon increase in the gasoline tax.

—A program for 30-year tax abatements for industries locating or expanding in Ohio, particularly in the inner cities.

—A program allowing direct loans by the state for housing construction and mortgage financing.

Although two of the proposals call for tax increases and would cost the state about $9.6 billion in principle and interest, Rhodes predicted the entire package would meet with voter approval.

"I think it's going to be an issue of unemployment," Rhodes said. "I think the people are going to vote for it."

"I think they're for economic growth, and I think they're for people going back to work," the governor said.

The governor first proposed his $4.1 billion package to the General Assembly in February. He hoped it would be put on the June 3 primary election ballot.

But the legislature failed to pass the proposed constitutional amendments by March 5, the deadline for the June ballot. Rhodes announced March 6 he would take the issues to the public.

The revised issues are basically the same as those rejected earlier, but contain a few extra provisions.

—The $2.75 billion package, as compared to a $2.5 billion package in the earlier proposal, would include $150 million for energy, $60 million more for state government, $25 million more for solid waste disposal projects and $10 million more for water development projects.

Those dollar amounts are not written into the constitutional language and thus would not be binding. Rhodes said they would be recommended to the General Assembly, and the legislature would appropriate those amounts from the bond money.

The proposal also would give $100 per capita to cities under 5,000 population. Under the earlier plan, that money would have gone to the rural county governments.

The distribution formula for the city money is specified in the amendment and could not be changed by the legislature.

—The transportation bond issue, $1.64 billion in the old proposal, would include $100 million for inner city streets and street lighting, $5 million for bikeways and a $5 million increase in park and park access roads.

—The tax abatement issue contains a new tax reduction from the personal property tax and the corporate franchise tax for existing industry spending for new capital equipment.

—The housing issue provides for direct loans to housing developers, in addition to the previous proposals for making direct loans to individuals and guaranteeing loans to developers.

Belgium OKs Top Jet Deal

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Belgium today decided the aviation "deal of the century" in favor of the United States, selecting the YF16 lightweight fighter plane built by General Dynamics Corp. over a French rival, a government official said.

The decision was reported by a cabinet minister who left a meeting on the YF16 purchase before it ended. He asked that his name not be used.

Contracts worth $2 billion were at stake as the cabinet met to decide between the American YF 16, which costs about $6.1 million, and the French Mirage F1 as a replacement for Belgium's U.S.-built F104 Starfighters. The Mirages would have been slightly more expensive.

Denmark, Norway and the Netherlands were awaiting Belgium's decision and said they would follow suit.

Belgium's decision came at the second cabinet meeting on the matter this week. The cabinet failed to reach a decision on Wednesday when Defense Minister Paul Vanden Boeynants returned from a trip to Washington where he discussed the deal with Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger.

Vanden Boeynants had favored the F1 but joined defense ministers from the other three allies in backing the American plane as cheaper and superior.

The four decided to buy the same plane in order to cut costs and increase fighting efficiency in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The U.S. Air Force has said it wants to buy 650 of YF16s and will station many of them in Western Europe, assuring that there will be widespread facilities for maintenance.

There was a last minute hitch when the Rassemblement Wallon, the smallest party in the cabinet, threatened to quit the government unless Belgium bought the French plane. But the cabinet source said that so far there had been no question of any resignations.

Premier Leo Tindemans is to go before parliament Tuesday to defend the government's decision.

The four NATO allies were expected to buy a total of 350 YF16s to replace their F104s which are wearing out.

General Dynamics said it hoped to eventually produce as many as 3,000 of the 1,500-mile-an-hour planes.

Heavy Rain Swamps Deep South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Heavy rain soaked sections of the Plains and Deep South today as thunderstorms ranged over a broad arc from Nebraska to Georgia.

Flash-flood warnings were in effect in the predawn hours in eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas following an afternoon and evening of intermittent downpours.

More than 4 inches of rain swamped an area south of Greenwood, in north-central Mississippi. One-to 2-inch rains were common during the night in parts of Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri.

Hail and high winds accompanied the thunderstorms in portions of Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. Hailstones the size of tennis balls bounced into an area southwest of Dodge City, Kan. Baseball-size hail bombarded a section of northern Oklahoma west of Alva.

Winds up to 75 miles per hour ripped Enid, Okla., Friday night, smashing two mobile homes and one house, downing power and telephone lines, breaking windows and uprooting trees. No injuries were reported. A windstorm also shook Shreveport, La., wrecking a vacant home, tearing down trees and forcing actors at a summer theater to work by candlelight when power failed. Two inches of rain drenched downtown Shreveport. Despite the damage, no injuries were reported.

Showers and scattered thunderstorms lingered over parts of the interior Northeast and broke out along the western slopes of the northern Rockies.

Fair and pleasant weather favored most of the Far West and Midwest.

Preacher Rides Mare To Meeting

QUAKER CITY, Ohio (AP) — A 177-mile ride on a 10-year-old mare next week will seek to "tell the story of the sacrifices it took to build the Methodist Church in Ohio."

The Rev. Allen Teter, 37, said Friday he will leave Quaker City Sunday on a horse purchased for him by his congregation to travel to Sandusky for the church's annual conference. The trip will portray those made in the early 1800s by circuit rider James B. Finley, he said.

He plans to carry no provisions for the eight-or-nine day trip, depending instead on the people along the way to take care of him, as did the early circuit riders.

Dear Mrs. G. Arden

Dear Mrs. G. Arden:

I planted my radishes and they came up O. K., but they have holes in them with little white bugs inside. What happened?

Signed,
ROYCE RINEHART

Dear Royce:

Your radishes are the victims of radish maggots. To try to rid your garden of these bugs, use Diazinon as a soil drench. Do not put the Diazinon on the part to be eaten. Direct spray to soil around stem of plant. Use plenty of water, and follow the label directions carefully. Don't use the Diazinon within 10 days of harvest. This means to have at least 10 days pass from when you use the insecticide to when you pick the radishes.

Sincerely,
MRS. G. ARDEN

Congratulations to Tina Rahe and Richard Mayberry, our Gardeners of the Week.

A large part of the 4-H program is community projects. In observance of Memorial Day, the Merry Mixers 4-H club helped place flags on all military graves in the city of Circleville. This has become a tradition with the Merry Mixers, who have honored our war dead for the past 11 years.

During national clean-up week, the Merry Mixers picked up litter along the road in front of the fairgrounds.

These are just two fine examples of the many community projects club members participate in to help their community. Clubs this year helped in the Chamber of Commerce clean-up campaign, rode in the bike-a-thon, collected money for the Heart, Cancer, and M. S. campaigns. Clubs also provide money for camp scholarships, the hospital, and fair trophies. Clubs sponsor Easter egg hunts and Christmas parties for small children in their area. They plant trees to beautify their area. They make presents and favors for hospitals, nursing homes and state institutions.

These are just a few of the fine activities members participate in while pledging their "Heart to greater loyalty."

Leaf Curl Is Springtime Peach Disease

LEAF CURL

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

Leaf curl is a springtime leaf disease of peach, and, to some extent, ornamental species closely related to peach. The causing agent is a fungus.

Symptoms of the infection, which appear about mid-May on the new growth, are thickened, puckered, twisted, brittle leaves that are flushed red or purple. These leaves later become yellow to brown and drop from the tree. Infected twigs are stunted, swollen, with curled leaves at the tips. Summer symptoms are a powdery-gray appearance on diseased leaves.

The trees and new growth are reinfected in the late summer and fall from these diseased leaves. It is very important to have the proper material applied BEFORE the buds begin to swell. The most effective time is in the fall after leaf drop and anytime the temperature is above 40 degrees. The spray coverage must be complete, flowing into all the cracks and crevices between the bud scales.

Little disease control can be done once the fungus has entered the leaves. To prevent problems next year the now weakened tree must be severely thinned of fruit and a fungicide applied all season to protect the newly developing leaves. If these precautions are not done, the tree will be further weakened and winter damage will occur.

Fruit will be affected in size and quality since the leaves can not function properly when diseased. Therefore, do not permit large quantities of fruit to continue to grow. The tree should be thinned of fruit.

Fungicides for fall application are ferbam, phygon, maneb, lime sulfur and Bordeaux mixture.

Good Corn Crop Predicted

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Late planting and lack of weed control are the most serious problems facing corn production so far in 1975, says Lawrence Shepherd, Extension Agronomist at The Ohio State University. In addition, some farmers are having problems with emergence, he adds.

By May, 5, 1975, only 15 per cent of Ohio's corn was planted. In 1974, the percentage was 50 per cent. On May 12 — when Ohio farmers should have completed corn planting — only 40 per cent had been planted, Shepherd notes.

"May has been warm, so in spite of the later than normal date of planting, corn is developing very well throughout the state. I'm pleased with the overall appearance of the crop as of late May, and I think our prospects are excellent for a good corn crop," the agronomist says.

"We have observed some fields heavily infested with Canada thistle and others severely infested with nut sedge," Shepherd continues. "It's still a little early to evaluate our most serious weed problems in corn fields; however, weeds are normally one of our most serious problems in corn production. Some areas of the state have been dry after planting, and pre-emergence weed killers have not been effective. Still, looking at conditions throughout the state, weed control appears to be better this year than I have ever observed."

Some corn planted in late April just before heavy rains was very slow in emerging. Some fields did have poor plant stands, Shepherd says. Many farmers even considered disking and replanting before the plants had sufficient time to emerge. Cool April weather made emerging about a full week later than normal. This led farmers to believe they had poor stands when they really needed only a few warm days to permit the stand to get started. As a consequence, many farmers decided against replanting.

Shepherd says, "Every year farmers ask me about some fields with much lower than expected yields. But without good records, it is almost impossible for me to determine the factors responsible. And every fall I receive many plants or ears of corn with such questions as 'What is the matter with this sample of corn?' Unfortunately, most of the time, I cannot determine the problems with any degree of accuracy. The reason is a lack of information. The higher the yield level the more difficult it is to answer the question."

Shepherd, therefore, suggests that farmers keep accurate records of corn growing conditions, methods and treatments. This will enable them to get more accurate evaluation of problems that may develop.

Tips For Cleaning The Grain Combine

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

One thing about farming - there's never a dull moment. Now that you've turned over the growing of corn and soybeans to the weatherman, it's time to clean up the combine for wheat harvest.

Combines that have been in storage since last fall may have some corn or soybeans in various components of the machine. If these grains mix with the new wheat you harvest, the result may be a price discount for foreign material and/or musty material when the grain is marketed.

An even more serious problem could be rat and mouse droppings in the machine, especially if the combine wasn't cleaned of all grain last fall. Rat and mouse droppings will not be tolerated in any wheat offered for sale or storage! If rodent excreta is found in a grain sample, the whole load will be rejected and not permitted in normal marketing channels. If it could mean having to feed this wheat to livestock or sell it for animal feed.

A good cleaning of the combine, grain wagons, and trucks is a sure way to avoid these problems, suggests Delbert M. Byg, Extension Agricultural Engineer at The Ohio State University. He recommends the

Farm Tractors To Have Roll-Over Protection

All farm tractors manufactured after Oct. 25, 1976, must be equipped with a seat belt and a roll-over protective structure, if operated by an employee, Roy Dunkle, chairman of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) reported.

The requirement applies to tractors with 20 engine horsepower or more. In addition, beginning June 1, 1975, farmers must instruct employees on how to prevent tractor roll-overs and the hazards involved. The new ruling was made in April by the Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

"Tractor roll-overs have been a major cause of injury and death on the farm," Dunkle said. Major statistical studies of fatalities resulting from roll-overs have been made in recent years. A study made by the Department of Transportation indicates that roll-over tractor accidents are responsible for about 540 fatalities each year. The National Safety Council projects that for every 1,000 reported roll-overs, 60 fatalities, 20 permanently disabling injuries, and 450 temporarily disabling injuries will occur.

"The Labor Department said there is virtually no dispute that a roll-over protective structure with a seat belt will significantly reduce the hazards associated with roll-overs. The protective structure will keep farmers from being crushed between the tractor and the ground in a tractor roll-over. It will restrict roll-overs to 90 degrees, reducing the likelihood of death or injury resulting from roll-over by preventing the tractor from fully rolling over the farmer," Dunkle said. The seat belt keeps the operator in the protective enclosure, and prevents him from being thrown or jumping from the tractor.

Labor Department operating instructions to farmers are:

Securely fasten your seat belt if the tractor has a roll-over protective structure.

Where possible, avoid operating the tractor near ditches, embankments, and holes.

Reduce speed when turning, crossing slopes, and on rough, slick, or muddy surfaces.

Stay off slopes too steep for safe operation.

Watch where you are going, especially at row ends, on roads, and around trees.

Do not permit others to ride.

Operate the tractor smoothly—no jerky turns, starts, or stops.

Hitch only to the drawbar and hitch points recommended by tractor manufacturers.

When tractor is stopped, set brakes securely and use park lock if available.

News For Homemakers

By BEVERLY S. BECHTEL

Many of you have brought in pressure canners for testing, and several have needed new parts. The gaskets, safety device and gauges are standard. Brands of these items can be mixed. For instance, if you have the old national canner, the new gaskets and gauges will easily fit them. These old canners are very reliable and often only need the investment of a few dollars in parts to make them safe. Pressure canners new are upward towards fifty dollars, so an old one is well worth getting tested and repaired.

Someone asked about strawberries this week. If you are picking your own and buying by the pound, you are really paying around 60 cents per quart (plus your labor). A grocery store quart holds about one and one-half pounds of berries.

A homemaker pointed out a good observation about purchasing a new pressure canner. If you buy the type with only the metal weight, you can "listen" to the canner as it sputters. If the pressure gets too high, it rattles and you turn down the heat. With the silent gauge type, you have to keep a pretty constant, watchful eye on that gauge and stay near the kitchen. This homemaker prefers the weighted gauge type because she can go about her other work and "listen" to the pressure in her canner. This is something to think about.

There must be a good biscuit recipe floating around which calls for self-rising flour from the requests this week. To make your own self-rising flour, add 1½ teaspoons of baking powder and ½ teaspoon of salt per cup of regular flour.

I will be at camp with 4-H beginners all next week, but I will check at the office periodically, so leave questions or canners with Weta.

To be a real gourmet, why not try growing your own herbs? Herbs can serve as a decoration while growing and can be used to give new or different tastes to cooking.

Herbs are not difficult to grow and seem to thrive when neglected. They can be grown in a small area of the garden, in shrub borders, in containers, and some (chives, oregano, basil, rosemary, savory, parsley, and thyme) will tolerate indoor conditions.

Sun grown plants have more distinct flavor and fragrance. A dry, loose, well drained soil is best; but herbs grow in any type of soil.

Fresh leaves may be picked as soon as the plant has enough foliage to maintain growth. To ensure good oil content, pick leaves of seeds after dew has disappeared, but before sun becomes too hot. For dry, winter use... harvest leaves before flower buds open. Pick seed heads as color changes from green to brown or grey. Wash dirty leaves and seed head in cold water, drain thoroughly before drying.

Newly emerged sweet corn is subject to flea beetle damage. But, it's not the holes in the leaves left by the beetles that concern us but what they put in the plant in the feeding process. While feeding on the leaves, the beetles inoculate the plant with Stewart's disease. This causes wilted, dwarfed plants, especially troublesome in early maturing varieties of sweet corn.

It's difficult to tell if beetles are carrying the wilt disease just by visual inspection. So, if you have had wilt problems before in your sweet corn, don't take any chances... treat seedling plants with Sevin at about 4-day intervals.

If the leaves on your pin oak tree turned into green, succulent balls about the size of a small marble this spring, the cause is succulent oak gall. Galls are caused by tiny wasps that lay eggs on developing buds.

Shortly, these wasps will complete their development and chew a hole through the side of the gall to escape. The tree will not die and new leaves will form. However, if you don't like to see these galls on your tree each spring, spray at bud break with an insecticide such as that you are spraying your apple trees with at the time. Just be ready next spring. They will return.

Just about all the millions of home gardeners each year plant a few tomatoes, even if they don't plant anything else. And, if you haven't had the experience of finding your tomato plants cut down just as they are beginning to grow, you may this year.

Cutworms coming out of hibernation eat just about anything in sight, including your tomato plants. To control them, use Sevin (or aldrin or dieldrin) sprays. Spray plants after transplanting into the garden. Direct the spray on plants, stems and soil around the base of plants.

If you don't want to use chemicals, milk cartons or metal cans placed over the plants to form a fence help protect the plants. Be sure the top and bottom

Rhodes Seeks Constitutional Amendments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes filed the formal language of four constitutional amendments he wants to place on the November ballot with the attorney general Thursday.

Signatures of some 150 Ohio voters were turned in with the amendments. At least 100 signatures are needed by law to begin the petition drive.

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown now certifies the summaries of the four proposed amendments as being accurate and fair and then the petitions are circulated to the public.

"We believe circulation of these important petitions can begin in about two weeks after the attorney general approves the summaries," Rhodes said in a statement.

Billed as his plan to make Ohio "depression proof," the Republican governor is seeking a voter signature drive that would circumvent the Democrat-controlled legislature. It failed to act on the proposals in time for the June primary as the governor requested.

An aide to Rhodes said the initial signatures came from a "broad cross section" and included labor and manufacturers' representatives along with county officials.

Rhodes made some modifications in his original program, but left intact transportation and capital improvements bond issues totaling, respectively, $1.6 billion and $2.5 billion. An aide said some of the proceeds would be shifted around to accommodate new priorities, including energy.

Also made in recent weeks were modifications in the Rhodes' program to provide major tax incentives for new and expanding industry.

The package otherwise includes an amendment that beefs up state authority to issue revenue bonds and make loans and grants to help provide housing for low and moderate income families.

Chan Cochran, Rhodes' administrative assistant, said the governor hopes to have his petitions circulating "within two weeks." The attorney general, however, is under no statutory deadline for acting on them, he said.

Rhodes' needs 307,000 qualified voters' signatures by Aug. 4 to put the issues on the ballot. He said he hopes to obtain about twice that amount.

ORDINANCE NO. 66-75
AN ORDINANCE LIMITING THE AMOUNT OF ASSESSMENTS FOR CURB AND SIDEWALK ON NICHOLAS DRIVE BETWEEN LANCASTER PIKE AND NORTHRIDGE ROAD.

WHEREAS, this Council did duly adopt Ordinance No. 50-75 on the 22nd day of April, 1975 determining therein to proceed with the improvement of Nicholas Drive between Lancaster Pike and Northridge Road by installing curbs and gutters by assessment thereon; and

WHEREAS, Council did by Ordinance No. 54-75, passed on the 22nd day of April, 1975 approving the content and authorizing the Director of Public Service to sign a contract with the Director of the Ohio Department of Transportation for the improvement of Nicholas Drive; and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of Council to limit the amount of assessments for the curb and sidewalk on Nicholas Drive to an amount no greater than the estimated cost previously approved by Council; NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1: That it is hereby determined by this Council that the rate of assessment for the curb and sidewalk on Nicholas Drive shall not exceed in the aggregate the estimated cost filed with and approved by this Council.

SECTION 2: That it is hereby determined that the improvement provided for in Ordinance No. 50-75 passed on the 22nd day of April, 1975 should be made.

SECTION 3: That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Lake Erie Drilling Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Sam Speck, R-95 New Concord, who advocates opening the central basin of Lake Erie for natural gas drilling, so far lacks the public support of the Rhodes administration.

But, he thinks it may be forthcoming, especially in view of comments about the energy shortage by Gov. James A. Rhodes to a joint legislative session.

Rhodes, among other things, said Ohio industry may have to shut down next winter for lack of natural gas.

Among moves Rhodes suggested was state encouragement of private drilling and exploration for new sources.

However, proposals to drill in the big lake have been politically sensitive for years, mostly due to fears of northern Ohio property owners and others of damage to the beaches and the environment in general.

Speck, in a bill he has pending, wants to permit drilling for natural gas only, and believes the exclusion of oil should remove most of those fears. However, the legislature also is considering another bill, by Rep. John A. Galbraith, R-69 Maumee, that would permit drilling for oil or gas.

Drilling of all types is prohibited in the lake under a temporary state law that expires July 1, 1978.

Speck said he believes the governor and other administration officials want to see how the legislature moves on some of Rhodes' other proposals. They include state financial help for coal gasification plants, opening of new coal mines and other efforts to find new energy sources.

Galbraith, like Speck, said he introduced his bill on his own and without consulting the administration. Speck said he isn't pushing right now. "I don't believe they are ready to bite the bullet on it," he said, referring to administration officials.

Among state lawmakers pushing for a bill to exempt disabled veterans from having to purchase fishing licenses is Rep. Don S. Maddux, D-90 Lancaster.

Maddux, plugging for his bill before the House Agriculture and Conservation Committee, said he thought the legislation is worthwhile "even though I've never been fishing in my life, with a license."

Amid committee chuckles, the 34-year-old school teacher explained he had gone fishing once as a preteen in Michigan, and as such wasn't required to have a license.

U.S. Government May Take Over Grain Inspections

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz says the grain inspection scandal could lead to the federal government taking over responsibility for grain inspections.

Butz said in an interview that no decision had been reached within the administration on how to overhaul the inspection system. But he said one option under consideration would give the federal government the same inspection responsibility for grain that it now has for meat. State and federal inspectors check meat for quality and sanitation.

Present law prohibits federal inspection and grading of grain but requires federal licensing of the inspectors employed by private firms, boards of trade and others.

Grand juries in New Orleans and Houston — two of the busiest ports for U.S. farm exports — have returned nearly a score of indictments during a farflung probe of alleged irregularities associated with export inspection and sampling. A complex investigation is continuing into reports of bribery, shortweighing of grain cargos, substandard and rubbish-laden grain and the possibility of organized crime involvement.

Bank Cards Can Pay Legal Fees

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Hoosiers soon may be able to pay legal fees with bank credit cards.

The American Bar Association has approved a rule permitting lawyers to honor the credit cards, as long as they don't advertise or post large signs saying they honor them.

Former Indiana Supreme Court Justice Arch N. Bobbitt, chairman of the Indianapolis Bar Association's ethics committee, says it has accepted the ABA ruling.

However, Donald L. Jackson, chairman of the grievance subcommittee of the Indiana Bar Association, said the ABA ruling still is under study by the state association's ethics committee. Jackson said he doesn't think a ruling by the state association is needed.

Tortoise And Hare

Continuing strife between truth and falsehood has intrigued poet and philosopher down through the ages. Their witness on the progress of the conflict has been like that of the ringside reporter—"he's up, he's down"—the antecedent of the pronoun depending on the predilection of the reporter.

There are definite reasons why truth often seems to be losing in the unending grapple. Several psychological tests have been interpreted as showing that, when truth and falsehood start out under equal conditions, the human memory is such that falsehood eventually gains an advantage.

Memory eventually tends to recall the lie with greater force and the circumstance of its questionable origin fades from recollection. Dictators and aggressors have always maintained that the bigger a lie is the more readily it is swallowed.

Efforts to counteract Soviet misrepresentation of American attitudes and aims have shown how great is the handicap against the truth that is sent out to overtake error.

Truth has taken a terrific drubbing in this modern era. It is enough to cause even the hopeful to assume the attitude expressed by Coventry Patmore and to feel that, though "truth is great and shall prevail," perhaps that eventuality will arrive "when none cares whether it prevails or not."

Yet loyalty to truth is not so easily discouraged. Knowledge of the psychological reasons that contribute to the temporary triumph of error—knowledge which the enemies of truth seek to pervert to their own evil purposes—could be a long step in the direction of helping truth come uppermost.

Candidate With Destiny

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — People ... Places

A grouchy Democrat, commenting on the yeasty groundswell for Ted Kennedy, grumbles, "Not one dame over 30 would vote for him, remembering Chappaquiddick."

Wrong. One dame would, a grand dame — matriarch Rose Kennedy. The spry old mother of the star-crossed brood had much to do with her youngest son's entrance into politics, 13 years ago. Despite the successes of John and Robert Kennedy, there was much opposition to Ted when he announced that he was a candidate for a U.S. Senate seat from Massachusetts. Among the raps against him was a charge that he had been bounced from Harvard for getting a brighter classmate to write a paper for him. Also, he was considered too young to be a Senator. He had barely turned 30, the minimum age. Also, why didn't he first run for some lesser post, as his brother Jack did, to prove he was worthy?

Rose took to the street corners of Boston to defend him, and in a manner that would have pleased her dear old populist daddy, Honey Fitz. She would say, in effect, that she agreed with the crowd that Ted was too immature to be a Senator. A Senator, she'd continue, should be a fine old gentleman with a white beard. (Applause.)

On the other hand, she'd continue, many people once thought that her eldest son, John F., was too young to be President, and her middle son Bobby, was too young to be the Attorney General of the United States — but weren't they doing a great job in Washington? (Applause.)

But she had to admit, she'd wistfully add, that Teddy was too young. (Shouts of agreement.) Matter of fact, she'd say, Teddy should have become a priest. It was terrible that such a large Catholic family had not produced a priest. (Grumbles of Irish assent.)

"But there was one reason Teddy didn't become a priest," she'd conclude. "He wanted to start out as a bishop."

(Laughter, and sounds of voters scuffling to the polls to vote for Teddy.)

Will Rose Kennedy key-note the '76 Democrat Convention?

The teapot tempest stirred up by the invitation to Gov. George Wallace to address a Catholic high school father-son banquet in Washington and receive an education award from it has come and is largely gone.

Wallace was the speaker over the protests of the Archbishop of Washington, William W. Baum, who succeeded only in preventing St. John's College High School, a Christian Brothers military academy, from bestowing an award on the man who once defied the U.S. Government's order to admit a black student to the University of Alabama.

A small picket line formed outside the hotel where the banquet, attended by 900, was held. Inside, it was boycotted by all ten of the 140 black students and their fathers.

But the rest of the assembly gave Wallace a standing ovation when he was wheeled in, though their archbishop had referred to the Presidential candidate in these words: "I question the wisdom of a Catholic institution choosing to honor a man whose position in reference to Christian teaching is questionable at best, controversial at least and reprehensible at worst."

In the course of his rambling speech, Wallace rapped the Ford-Kissinger (or vice versa) foreign policy, called for a stonger military, and praised St. John's for having the "courage to Love God and the Flag." Then he belted the U.S. press and gave his special blessing to the American middle class.

He was given another standing ovation when he finished.

Where are you going for your summer vacation? That's a puzzle.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Yes, the economy is still expected to catch a faint breeze and begin sailing out of the doldrums later this year, but increasingly we are being warned not to expect any speed records.

Don't expect the unemployment situation to clear up quickly. In fact, expect it to get a bit worse before turning better. Plan for a continuation of inflation, although not as bad as it has been.

The economic direction is changing, Treasury Secretary William Simon told Congress, but he added that "recovery from this low point won't quickly be evident in all of the measures of economic activity."

The students of consumer attitudes note the majority of ordinary Americans already are aware of all this, even if their leaders still think it's news. Buying attitudes aren't moving up at all.

A good many of the private economists who write letters to clients are still advertising an imminent upturn in those two very basic industries, autos and housing, but they're beginning to hedge a bit.

They have good reason to do so. Housing, while improving, isn't doing so with any bounce; automotive markets are listless, and a threat of growing inventories is returning to haunt the industry.

Instead of buying, millions of Americans are banking. Personal income is rising, but there are too many jobless workers in the neighborhoods to remind everyone the economic future can be risky.

On Wall Street, some of the bulls have run out of breath, and it isn't at all unusual to find cautionary comment creeping into the market letters, one of whose functions is, of course, to induce rather than reduce activity.

The hesitancy, the uncertainty, the warnings are subtly packaged, hidden or surrounded as they are by the consensus forecast, which still calls for a recovery later this year. But they are there.

There exist too many variables for many economists to understand and deal with, and many of the variables are far beyond the scope of an economist's training. Political considerations are dominant in the world of economics.

One theory circulating is that the industrialized nations of the Western world can't expect to continue the furious expansion of their economies as they did in the 1950s and 1960s because the underdeveloped nations just won't let them do so.

Puerto Rican Boy Is Spelling Champ

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

The captain and the first mate of modern super-tankers are amazingly capable at handling medical problems, and even some surgical problems that may arise on the ship.

Now, an interesting ship-to-shore method has been installed in a Israeli shipping line. It is possible to make an electrocardiogram on board ship and telephone it by radio to the Rambam Hospital in Haifa.

Abnormal tracings of the heart can thus be immediately recognized by heart specialists. They, in turn, radio back specific instructions for the handling of heart emergencies.

This device may yet be used to transmit electrocardiograms from all ships to specified stations, so that no ship will be out of contact with emergency heart care.

A source of joy for physicians and the laity is to learn how seemingly bizarre studies can represent real contributions to medical advances.

Would you believe that the horseshoe crab, universally hated by swimmers and fishermen, now has medical importance?

Scientists at the Woods Hole Marine Laboratories in New England have been able to extract a "lysate" from this crab. The lysate is a highly sensitive detector of poisons, or "endotoxins." There are already indications that the lysate taken from the "nuisance crab" may play an important role in cancer research.

A new artificial lens can now be implanted in an eye in which the original lens has been removed during cataract surgery.

The artificial lens comes closest to producing normal vision following such surgery.

At the present time, glasses or contact lenses are used. The implantation of the artificial lens is a distinct improvement.

Surgeons all over the United States are testing the artificial lens on experimental animals in an effort to learn the techniques that will be most effective.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

The rejection of school tax levies in recent years has been a signal from the voters that they consider the local property taxes for the support of schools to be too excessive and unfair.

In response to this message from the voters, state income tax has been enacted. A principal argument in favor of a state income tax was that such a tax would make possible a reduction in local property taxes.

Following the enactment of the state income tax, the voters registered their support of it by rejecting an effort to repeal the tax in a statewide referendum.

The ten per cent roll back for all property owners and the homestead exemption legislation for older persons was enacted in connection with the state income tax.

Unfortunately, the school bill (S.B. 170) now being considered in the state legislature would undo what has been accomplished through efforts to bring property tax relief to farm and home owners. However, it would start property taxes on a new round of increase.

The bill would require a school district to have a tax rate of 22 mills for schools in order to be eligible for state aid. This is the highest tax rate ever required in the history of Ohio for participation in state aid. At one time the local property tax rate for this purpose was only 3 mills.

Furthermore, this bill is designed to operate in such a way as virtually to force school districts to increase their local property taxes. Under this bill, the more a local school district increases its tax efforts the more state aid it would receive. This unusual feature is contrary to the principal of equalization of educational opportunity for school children. This provision would reward the wealthy and penalize the poor.

Tremendous boosts in property taxes are occurring as a result of the reappraisals that are being conducted in counties throughout the state under the mandate of the state board of tax appeals. These reappraisals are wiping out the reductions that have otherwise been attempted, they are even making the local property tax load heavier than it has ever been.

At the present there is a partial relief for this situation that can be obtained by a roll back of voted millage, but S.B. 170 which is now being considered by the legislature would prohibit the roll back.

If this bill becomes law it could cause financial chaos for the schools, because its operation is based upon a resort to additional tax levies. In as much as the voters are looking to the state legislature to authorize a plan for the state support for schools that would not require additional voted levies, they can be expected to resist attempts to impose such levies. The result can be bitter controversy in school districts throughout the state which would reflect unfavorably upon the schools and the people.

The bill does not provide for equalization of educational opportunity, it would result in a tremendous increase in local property taxes, and it would cause financial chaos for the schools. It is so complicated and so far-reaching that its implications are not fully understood. It is doubtful that it can be revised to overcome its disadvantages. Probably the best course of action is to lay it aside and start over with a new bill.

Indiana Governor Commutes Sentences

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Sentences of five men whose convictions ranged from murder to rape have been commuted by Gov. Otis R. Bowen to time served.

The action makes the prisoners eligible for parole. They are:

Harry Moreland, sentenced in Grant County to life April 6, 1956, for second-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of his girlfriend. Authorities noted Moreland has been in mental hospitals 15 of the years since he was convicted.

Arthur H. Kent, sentenced in Elkhart Superior Court to life for raping a mentally ill 11-year-old girl in January 1941.

Felix S. Campos, sentenced in Lake Criminal Court to 10-20 years for rape while armed.

Burgess E. Scrugg Jr., sentenced in Marion Criminal Court to 10-20 years for first-degree burglary in October 1971.

Robert J. Bloom, sentenced to 10-20 years for robbery in Allen County.

Juvenile Court Has Busy Week

Juvenile Court authorities were busy this past week. Twelve cases were placed in the files prior to Friday's hearings.

One case charging a Canal Winchester boy with purchase, possession, and control of hallucinogens was transferred to Franklin County Juvenile Court.

Two Circleville boys, ages 15 and 17, appeared before Judge Guy G. Cline on one count each of breaking and entering and two counts each of grand theft.

Judge Cline suspended sentences to the Ohio Youth Commission and placed the two youths on probation for two years. He also ordered them to make restitution for the damages they had caused.

A 15-year-old Circleville boy was continued on probation after a conviction last week of violation of probation and school truancy. The court suspended eight days of a ten-day detention sentence.

The case charging Jerry Rayburn, Route 3, with contributing to the neglect of minors was dismissed.

Sandra Rayburn, however, was found guilty of the same offense. The court placed her on probation for three years and suspended a six-month jail sentence. The defendant was also ordered to seek medical help.

Three youths involved in the same crime appeared before the court last week for final disposition of their cases. A 15-year-old Route 3 boy was charged with consuming, disorderly conduct, criminal damaging or endangering property and violation of probation. The second youth, a 17-year-old Route 3 boy was charged with criminal damaging or endangering property and the third with that charge plus disorderly conduct and consuming. He was 16 years old, also from Route 3.

The court sentenced all three to the Ohio Youth Commission and then suspended the severe penalty. All three boys were placed on probation for two years and ordered to make restitution for the damages.

Two small Route 3 children, ages one and two, were placed in the temporary care of the Pickaway County Children's Services.

In another neglected child case, a two-year-old child and a five-month-old infant were placed with the Children's Services.

John Brian Smith, 17, Route 3, appeared on a traffic offense of reckless operation. He was ordered to pay $15 of an original $25 fine and had his license suspended for two months. Judge Cline also ordered Smith to attend traffic school.

Linda Burke, 24, 201 E. Franklin St., appeared on a charge of contributing to the neglect of a minor. The court suspended a six-month jail sentence and placed the woman on probation for three years.

An 18-year-old Route 1, Ashville girl, convicted in 1974 of check forgery, was released from probation.

One other youth was also released from probation during the week's docket.

A 16-year-old Route 5 boy was charged by his probation officer with violation of probation. He was placed on two years probation and ordered to seek conjoint family guidance and counsel.

Terry Downing, 17, 113 Evergreen Ave., was fined $10 for making unnecessary noise in a motor vehicle. The court suspended the fine and suspended Downing's license for one month with a modifying order allowing him to drive to work and school during the suspension. He was also ordered to attend traffic school.

A speeding charge was transferred to the local juvenile court from Hocking County against Timothy A. Hunter, 17, Route 1, Kingston. Judge Cline suspended a $10 fine and suspended his license for two months. Further order of the court will allow the boy to drive to work during the two months suspension but he must attend traffic school.

During the week, five traffic cases were transferred to other counties. Youthful offenders are usually tried in the county of their residence.

An Ashville boy, James R. Little, 16, appeared on a charge of failure to maintain assured clear distance ahead. He was given a suspended $10 fine. The court also suspended his license for one month but restored his driving privileges to drive to work and traffic school.

Tami Sue Sparks, 16, Route 1, was cited into juvenile court for speeding. She was also given a $10 suspended fine and had her license suspended for one month. The court will allow her to use her permit to take driver training but ordered that she attend traffic school.

Driving without an operator's license brought a $50 fine to Alvin Douglas York, 14, Route 4. The court suspended $40 of the fine and suspended his license for six months after he has completed his driver training or has reached his 18th birthday. Judge Cline ordered him to send his license in when he receives it.

A 15-year-old Route 1, Laurelville girl charged with school truancy had her case transferred to Hocking County for further disposition.

Two Ashville boys, ages 14 and 17, were found by the court to be neglected and were placed in the temporary care of the Pickaway county Children's Services. Their father was ordered to pay the per capita costs.

In final action during the week, the court dismissed three cases after the defendants have served their probation, terminated two cases with the Children's Services and placed four others on the inactive list.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

She Wants To Meet The Man

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a rather unusual problem. My small apartment building faces a 10-story highrise. Every time I look over at the building I can see straight into this gentleman's apartment, and I know he can see into mine.

The problem? He is always alone and so am I. Every night I see him sitting there alone, including Saturday and Sunday.

I am a 28-year-old working girl, but it's hard to tell how old he is-not that it matters.

I would like to meet this man, but I don't know how to go about it. Please don't think I'm cheap. I'm not. Any suggestions?

THE GIRL ACROSS THE WAY

DEAR GIRL: I don't have the foggiest idea how you can "meet" a man in the window of a 10-story highrise across the way. If you were to play Sherlock Holmes and learn his identity by hook, crook or bribe, he might feel flattered and therefore turned on. He might also peg you as conniving, scheming, aggressive female and be turned off. It's your choice. Me? I'd pull down my shade and forget him.

DEAR ABBY: I work in the security screening area of a large, international airport, and I have a complaint to register:

Many people are insulted when we check them and their hand luggage. They curse us under their breath, give us dirty looks and make snide remarks like: "Do I look like I'd hijack a plane? Obviously most don't, but everyone must be checked, regardless.

Some travelers have exploded in anger because they had only a few minutes in which to catch their planes, and they found themselves in a long line of people who must wait their turns to go through security. Naturally, some miss their flight, and they blame us. But it's their fault, not ours, for not having allowed themselves enough time to make their planes.

You would do a great public service, Abby, if you would print this with a plea for a little more patience and consideration on the part of air travelers. We're only doing our job.

"HEY, GIRLIE, IN L.A."

DEAR HEY: The federal Aviation Administration told Congress that in 1974, during the security check more than 2,400 firearms were confiscated and more than 3,500 persons were arrested. It was the second consecutive year without ONE successful hijacking of a U.S. airliner. Two would-be hijackers surrendered, and a third committed suicide.

I think the inconvenience of being searched is a small price to pay for a safe flight, don't YOU? So, fellow air travelers, please get to the airport a little earlier, and make everyone happier-including yourselves.

LE Art Published In Text

Bill Chandler has given permission to Davis Publications of Baltimore, Md., to include photographs of four of his students' artwork in a textbook being published by that company. Chandler is the art instructor for the Logan Elm High School and the George McDowell Exchange School.

The scope of the book will include all areas of art activities, two and three dimensional. In asking permission for use of these pieces of artwork, George F. Horn, author of the book, described the students' work as excellent examples of creative work.

Included in the text will be two batiks. One was done by Danny Stevens and the other by Kitty Bialy. Both students will be seniors at LE next fall. Danny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Stevens, Route 3, and Kitty is the daughter of Mrs. Mildred Bialy, Route 5.

A positive-negative bicycle design done by David Baldinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baldinger, Route 5, will also be published.

A drawing done by Marsha Woolever, a junior at Logan Elm High School, is to be included. This same drawing was published in School Arts Magazine and was a part of this year's Governor's Youth Art Exhibition. Marsha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Woolever, Route 1, Kingston.

History Of Ashville Women's Civic Club From Its 1946 Beginning To The Present

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of histories of women's organizations in Pickaway County which will be published in The Herald during the observance of the 200th Anniversary of the birth of America.

The Women's Civic Club of Ashville, Ohio, was formed in the summer of 1946 for the purpose of civic betterment. The first meeting of women interested in the club's organization was held in May 1946, in the community club room in the Odd Fellows Building at Long and Wright Sts.

Mrs. J. E. Courtright and Mrs. R. E. Featheringham, who were elected temporary co-chairmen of the group, appointed a constitution committee composed of the following members: Mrs. Stanley Boeres, Mrs. Walter Harris, Mrs. Paul Cromley, and Mrs. Harold Cameron.

The first regular meeting of the Women's Civic Club of Ashville was held on June 6, 1946.

On January 21, 1947, the General Federation of Women's Clubs granted a certificate of membership to the group. Mrs. Ray Davis of Circleville, President of Southeastern District of Ohio, installed the club with the following officers: Mrs. Rolland Featheringham, president; Mrs. J. E. Courtright, vice-president; Mrs. Lowell Cooper, recording secretary; Mrs. George Gardner, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. William Fischer, Jr. treasurer. Nine of the original charter members are still active.

Charter Members: Josephine Bowers, Ruth Bowers, Josephine Cameron, Kathleen Cooper, Virginia Courtright, Ann Cromley, Louise Cromley, Georgia Dore, Esther Duvall, Gretchen Featheringham, Isabel Fischer, Zelma Gardner, Thelma Harris, Helen Hedges, Margaret Lindsey, Evelyn Morrison, Stella Morrison, Nelle Oesterle, Mary Alice Peters, Kathryn Petty, Esther Pontius, Dorothy Rathburn, Marie Trego, Vera Trone Downs, Dorothy Ward.

A constitution was made under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stanley Bowers and adopted. The first Thursday of each month was selected for time of meetings which were held in the Community Club rooms until that building was razed. Early goals of the club were to secure better health service, a library branch, and garbage collection.

A library committee composed of Nelle Oesterle, chairman; Gretchen Featheringham, Virginia Courtright, and Zelma Gardner succeeded with the help of the Circleville Library in having a branch placed in the Barth Variety Store on Main St. Three hundred books were loaned and many donations were made by local citizens. Clara Lou (Peters) Stewart served as part-time librarian. This project continued until the County Library Board was established.

During the summers of 1948 and 1949 a six-week skating program was provided for the children of the community. The first "Style Show" was held at the First English Lutheran Church in March 1949. Mrs. Wayne Pontius and Mrs. Elwood Morrison were in charge. Each member was to invite two guests. In 1950 the club sponsored the building of tennis courts and benches in the Community Park.

Senior citizens of this area have been honored annually with a program and social hour. For a number of years the senior girls of the high school were entertained one evening and later the entire senior class was invited. This project was dropped in 1972 due to a conflict of interests.

For many years the club has sponsored an outstanding junior girl to Buckeye Girls' State in Columbus.

A variety of money-making projects have been used by the group. The most outstanding project has been an annual style show under the auspices of local dress shops. This has been a very successful and enjoyable event. Other projects have included the sale of pecans, bake sales, card parties, white elephant sales, Christmas Bazaars, farmers market, parade floats, and aid from the Community Club for assisting at the July Fourth Celebration. A musical, "Fun For You", was given one year in co-operation with the Community Club.

Programs have varied with presentations by club members, guest speakers, travel programs, and visits to many places. Such visits have included the Gallery of Fine Arts, The Center of Science and Industry, German Village and the Columbia Gas of Ohio, all of Columbus; DuPont, County Children's Home, and Clarke-May Museum of Circleville, and the local Reynolds Plant. Plays, movies and concerts have been enjoyed by the group on several occasions. Foreign students attending the local high school or Ohio State University have addressed the club as have the Senior Girl Scouts that toured Russia.

In the County's Sesquicentennial Year, the historic home, known as Mt. Oval, located south of Circleville and belonging to Mrs. Bernard Young, was visited and thoroughly enjoyed by all. A tour of local homes with a variety of decor was used for a program.

In the early years of the group's history, a guild was formed of club members to help Berger Hospital. One summer the women cooperated with Civil Defense officials and served as "watchers" of aircraft. In memory of Louise Millar Cromley, a charter member, a scholarship was established. An outstanding senior who planned to enter the field of teaching was to be the recipient of a sum of State, Ohioanna Library, Kiwanis, Pickaway County Historical Society, Pickaway County Children Services (Pickaway County Scholarship, and Secret Santa), American Heart Fund, Teays Valley Graduation Class, and various scholarships sponsored by the Ohio Federation of Womens Club.

In May 1970, the Club voted to select an outstanding woman citizen of the community to be honored at the Fourth of July Celebration. Woman of the Year Awards: 1970, Nelle Oesterle; 1971, Helen Hedges; 1972, Gretchen Featheringham; 1973, Georgia Dore; 1974, Ethel Siegel.

In June 1973, the club initiated the purchasing of American Flags to decorate the streets during the July Fourth Celebration and other special holidays. In August of that year the club assisted in the formation of the Ashville Junior Women's Club. In October 1973 a donation of $500 was given to the project to save Stages Pond. The formation of the Juniores Club - The Future Women's Club - was started in September 1974. In a short time this young club has become an active one. Three of its members have been recognized by the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs. Taundra VanPelt received first award in the Central Ohio River District Sewing Contest enabling her to participate in the state contest. Theresa Jones was selected to receive a scholarship from the OFWC Ethel G. Swanbeck Nursing Scholarship fund and Cindy Beattie received the OFWC Elaine Weidman Memorial Scholarship.

During the current year the club has undertaken three Bicentennial projects. Under the chairmanship of Nelle Oesterle, the club will prepare a historical book of Ashville. Our second project is to preserve the Ohio-Erie Canal Lock 31 at Millport. It is our aim that the lock will be considered of significant historical value to be placed on the National Register of Historical Places. The third project will start in the fall. The club will be sponsoring a flag contest open to ages fourteen through adult for the purpose of designing a centennial flag for the Village of Ashville.

The club has had 13 members serve as president. Mrs. Rolland Featheringham, 1946-1948; Mrs. Seibert Duvall, 1948-1950; Mrs. Roger Hedges, 1950-1952 and 1966-1968; Mrs. Ralph Cloud (deceased), 1952-1954; Mrs. Lowell Cooper, 1954-1956; Mrs. Felix Dore, 1956-1958; Mrs. Donald Flierl, 1958-1960; Mrs. Thomas Purcell, 1960-1962; Mrs. Arthur Deal, 1962-1964; Mrs. James Irwin, 1964-1966 and 1972-1974; Mrs. Charles Morrison, 1968-1970; Mrs. William Trego, 1970-1972.

The club is under the current leadership of Mrs. Robert P. Featheringham, 1974-1976.

Frericks To Renew Vows With 169 Couples In Anniversary Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Frericks, 573 Willow Lane, Circleville will be among the couples attending the second annual diocesan Anniversary Celebration honoring couples married 50 or more years or 25 years at Christ the King Church, 2777 E. Livingston Ave., Columbus 3 p.m., June 15.

Bishop J. Hermann will be the principle celebrant and priests from parishes who have couples being honored are invited to concelebrate. During mass, Bishop Hermann will lead all the honorees in renewal of their marriage vows and present certificates to them.

"While these couples are gathering to celebrate their anniversaries and their love for one another, I do not feel these are the only reasons," stated Bishop Herrmann recently. "They are witnesses to the permanence of marriage at a time when its permanence is not appreciated, which results in the disruption of so many families and contributes to a further decline in our sense of values."

Msgr. Roland Winel, pastor of St. Aloysius Church in Columbus will be homilist at the special liturgy. A reception will follow in the school hall. There are 170 couples coming to the event this year, 42 who have been married 50 years or longer and 128 who have been married 25 years.

Good Samaritan Class Meets

Good Samaritan Class of the Church of the Nazarene met Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carter, Reber Ave.

Following group singing scripture was read by Edith Russell and prayer by the Rev. A. E. Pusey. The business session was conducted by Etta May Allen.

Homemade ice cream with strawberries and cake were served to the 18 members present.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

Correction

The 25th wedding anniversary of J. Richard and Helen L. Jones, (the former Helen Shadley of New Holland) will be observed with repeating wedding vows and a reception 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Northridge Church of Christ.

It was inadvertently published in Thursday's issue of The Herald that the couple's address was Route 1, Lockbourne. They reside at 1178 Atwater Ave., Circleville.

Guild 45 To Meet

Berger Hospital Guild 45 will meet 8 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Joan Gibson, Route 1, Ashville.

Malpractice Plan Set For Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A medical malpractice plan with strong bipartisan backing has been recommended for passage in the House virtually intact despite objections by lawyers to limits on fees and recovery for pain and suffering.

"It's easy for us to sit here in Columbus and tell someone who sues for malpractice that the injury you receive is worth only $200,000," argued Rep. Paul R. Leonard in an unsuccessful attempt to delete the limit on recovery damages.

Although his amendment failed, Leonard joined the majority on the House Insurance, Financial Institutions and Utilities Committee in a 14-1 favorable vote Thursday on the guaranteed protection plan.

Chairman William E. Hinig, D-96, New Philadelphia, who sponsored the bill with support from the Rhodes administration, said he would seek a House floor vote next Thursday.

"Two hundred thousand dollars seems very generous to me," said Rep. Robert E. Netzley, R-81 Laura during debate on the amendment.

"If these tremendously high awards continue, you are going to have a situation where you don't have any medical services available," he added. Doctors in several states, including Ohio, have staged jobs actions in recent months to protest soaring rates and diminishing availability of malpractice insurance.

The bill would establish a Joint Underwriters Association pool of personal liability and health insurance companies to guarantee protection to doctors unable to secure insurance through private firms.

In addition to the cap on general damages recovery, the legislation sets up graduated ceilings on lawyers contingency fees, ranging from 50 per cent of the first $1,000 recovered to 10 per cent of any settlement over $100,000.

There would be no limit on total recovery for a victim.

The Ohio Bar Association and Ohio Academy of Trial Lawyers battled against the proposed fee schedule.

Attorneys get a certain percentage of settlements they win under contingency rates, but receive nothing when they lose a case.

An amendment to remove that section of the bill failed 10-7.

The committee adopted 21 of the 34 amendments offered, but only three changes were considered significant.

—The underwriters pool would provide primary coverage up to $200,000 per occurrence with an aggregate maximum of $600,000 in a policy year. Doctors could acquire a second supplemental JUA policy of up to $1 million aggregate in a year.

—All malpractices and accident-health companies, including Blue Cross and Blue Shield, would be required to join the pool, with the exception of health insurers offering flat rate accident benefits that cannot be passed on in premiums. Pool members would pay a certain percentage of their premiums into a stabilization reserve fund to ensure the solvency of the operation.

—Attorneys for victims could be granted a 180 day extension on the one-year statute of limitations to allow time to prepare for the filing of cases brought near the end of a statute year.

Rep. Robert W. Jaskulski, D-11 Garfield Heights, the lone dissenter in the committee vote, said the plan was geared to "two special interest groups" — insurance companies and doctors.

"Nowhere in the bill are we taking into consideration the individual," he said.

Opponents held out hope that the measure could face further amendment on the House floor or in the Senate.

We had such a good time last year. Let's have a good turnout this year. It is so very thoughtful of the Girl Scouts to do this for us.

Veto Halts PICCA Summer Work Program

An item recently appeared in the "Roundtown" column of The Herald which stated that Pickaway County Community Action's Manpower Department was taking applications for a summer work program for youths age 14-21.

At that time no qualifications other than age were mentioned. The reason for this was that PICCA had received no other guidelines by which to operate the program.

PICCA has now received information from the State and Federal Governments that all youth selected for this program must come from economically disadvantaged families. The definition of economically disadvantaged is based on two factors, family size and family income.

Manpower Director Mike Melson notes that this information is to clarify

Many Haitian Peasants Face Spreading Famine, Starvation

GONAIVES, Haiti (AP) — Marie Joseph, up at daybreak in the sweltering heat, squatted near her one-room, stick-and-mud house in the bleak desertlike northwest tip of Haiti. She carefully peeled and ate a mango which, with sorghum seed and another mango or two, was all the 40-year-old mother of five had to eat that day. Her farmer husband, three small boys and two teen-age girls fared no better.

The Joseph family is undernourished even in good times. Now more than half a million Haitian peasants are on the thin edge of starvation. They may die unless a massive disaster relief effort American agencies are gearing up succeeds.

Eight to 12 months of drought, a soaring population rate, archaic farming methods and primitive transportation and communications have brought famine to impoverished Haiti's northwest. It is spreading across the country's entire northern tier.

There have been some deaths, although government officials in Port-au-Prince deny it.

Some livestock also has starved to death amid the powdery dust whipped up by the hot winds. Small family farming plots lie fallow in the rock-strewn areas between the craggy mountains and the sea.

The searing hot, arid peninsula north of Gonaives, jutting out into the Caribbean 50 miles from Cuba and 700 miles from Miami, has been hit hardest.

Two weeks ago, the government admitted that 306,889 people were in desperate straits because of the "natural catastrophe."

Conditions have worsened since then. Some representatives of foreign relief agencies who have conducted field surveys say many more people are involved. Estimates of 600,000 and more have been used in planning sessions of a disaster relief committee coordinating foreign and governmental efforts.

"Our present commitment is to feed 120,000 people for three to five months," said U.S. Ambassador Heyward Isham after an inspection trip to the northwest.

The Americans are importing bulgar wheat, beans, rice, high protein biscuits and peas. Trucks take it to the main northwest distribution center at Gonaives over a tortuous, deeply rutted, 80-mile road built by the U.S. Marines during their occupation of Haiti early in this century. The trip can take four hours.

Ration books have been issued to many farmers, and small amounts of grain and cooking oil are keeping them going until the program gets into full operation.

"Some people have to walk miles to their grain ration of 3½ pounds a week," said George Mathues, the American CARE director for Haiti. "Many of them have been forced to eat the seeds they were planning to plant for next year's crop."

Egypt Allows Cargo Ships To Use Canal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Egypt is going to let cargoes for Israel on ships of other nations go through the Suez Canal soon, but the Egyptians and the Israelis are going to try to keep it quiet in hopes of avoiding adverse reaction from the Syrians and the Palestinians, U.S. officials say.

"There will be no test case," said one American source in Washington. "Our understanding is that the goods will be shipped through without either side acknowledging it."

Other sources said Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger expects Egypt to make no attempt to stop nonmilitary cargoes for Israel going through the canal "as long as everyone shuts up."

On Thursday, after President Anwar Sadat of Egypt reopened the canal and began a triumphal, two-day trip down the waterway, Israeli Transport Minister Gad Yaacobi said a Liberian freighter with a cargo of sugar for Israel was headed for the canal and would try to pass through as a test case.

Later, an aide to Yaacobi said the ship "does not exist, and if it does, it is not headed for the canal."

U.S. officials said the backtracking resulted from pressure from Washington. They said the captain of the ship decided on his own to try to use the canal, and when the State Department learned of Yaacobi's disclosure, it warned Israel to stop the attempt.

The sources said the Israeli government ordered the ship to keep out of the canal.

Egypt has barred all Israeli ships and all cargo for Israel on ships of other nations from the canal since Israel became a state in 1948 because Egypt has been at war technically with Israel ever since.

The Egyptians have never acknowledged that Sadat, as part of the disengagement agreement with Israel which Kissinger negotiated in January 1974, agreed to let Israeli cargoes on ships of other nations pass through the waterway when it was reopened. But various American officials have confirmed that Sadat gave such a commitment, apparently in a letter to then-President Richard M. Nixon, who communicated it to the Israelis.

U.S. officials said their major concern is to keep the whole thing quiet and avoid a situation in which Sadat would have to disavow his secret commitment to save face.

Blue Cross Wants Increased Rates

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Blue Cross of Southwest Ohio has announced it will hold a public hearing June 19 in Middletown on its request to increase rates for "regular nongroup" members.

Blue Cross President John Morgan said the increase was requested since nongroup rates have not been adjusted since 1971.

A public hearing is also scheduled in Columbus June 17 on proposed revisions in Insurance Department rules.

Morgan said despite revisions in the new rules, many portions "still contain many requirements which are discriminatory, lack practicality or exceed the director's lawful authority."

Total regulations have the effect of using Blue Cross plans to regulate hospitals, a job it does not want to accept, Morgan said.

Luverne Lausche, OU Planner, Dies

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Luverne Lausche, Ohio University architect, engineer and planner, died Thursday after a lengthy illness. He was 64.

Lausche, who had been with the university 38 years, planned to retire at the end of this month.

Lausche was business manager of the university from 1951 to 1967 when he was named to the post which he held at the time of his death.

Foster, Reds Rip Cubs, 5-1

CINCINNATI (AP) — The answer to today's trivia question is George Foster.

What was the question? By 1980, it might go something like this: who was the reserve outfielder for the Cincinnati Reds whose insertion in the lineup moved Pete Rose to third?

Foster's been the answer to another question too.

It's been one month since Manager Sparky Anderson gambled on the revamped lineup.

His managerial stratagem paid off again Friday night, with Foster crashing his ninth homer of the year to propel the Reds to their 13th victory in the last 16 games.

"We were going nowhere. We had to get George in there," said Anderson after Cincinnati's 5-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs, who fell out of first place in the Eastern Division.

Foster, who may be the hottest No. 8 batter in anyone's lineup, gave Don Gullett a 2-0 lead in the second inning and the young lefthander protected it with a five-hitter to boost his record to 7-3.

"He's always had the ability," said Anderson of Foster. "In all fairness to him, he just needed the playing time. He reminds people of Bobby Bonds."

Foster moved within two homers of league-leading teammate Johnny Bench, despite playing in 12 fewer games and being handicapped by his lowly position in the batting order.

"All I'm getting are low pitches and off-speed stuff. Nobody wants to throw good pitches to the No. 8 man," said the 26-year-old Californian.

He's also destroying a tag that he feels was unfairly attached.

"A lot of people have said I can't hit breaking balls," said Foster, who is batting a solid .280.

Gullett withstood a shakey start when he loaded the bases in the first inning, then settled down to notch his third straight victory.

Despite his fast start, he avoids thinking about a 20-victory season.

"I start each season with goals, but most of them are based on improving all phases of my pitching. I figure the wins will take care of themselves," said Gullett, who has won 16, 18 and 17 games in the past four years.

He says he feels stronger than in past seasons and his six complete games attest to his stamina.

"I've never completed this many games this early before. I really feel like everything's coming together," he said.

Gullett got backing from Johnny Bench sacrifice fly for a 3-0 lead and Dave Concepcion's eighth-inning single padded the margin.

Gullett's shutout string of 14 scoreless innings ended in sixth when Jose Cardenal and Bill Madlock had consecutive bloop singles and Andy Thornton provided a sacrifice fly.

Pete Rose had three singles, the first being the 2,400th hit of his career. The losing pitcher was Bill Bonham, 5-5.

Jack Billingham, 5-3, was scheduled to face Ray Burris, 6-4.

Sikes Pushes Ray Floyd In Kemper

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Veteran Dan Sikes, hampered by a nagging touch of tendonitis in his right shoulder, made the biggest move of the day Friday in the second round of the $250,000 Kemper Open golf tournament.

Sikes, a 44-year-old attorney who hasn't won since 1968, fired the low round of the day—a five-under-par 67—and moved to within two shots of the lead held for the second straight day by former PGA champion Ray Floyd at 136.

Floyd needed only a 71 on the windy, humid day to retain a two-shot edge, but the cast behind him changed.

With portions of the final two rounds today and Sunday scheduled for national television, most of the big names will be missing.

The top three money winners this year—Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller and Tom Weiskopf—bypassed this event and such stars as Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino and Billy Casper, failed to make the cut.

However, South African Gary Player moved into position to take a run at his first title in American this year. He posted a 70 for 139, placing him in a deadlock with veteran Miller Barber, 70, and two winless touring pros, Steve Melynk, 68, and Dick Ryhan, 71.

Cage Stars Turn Talk To McGinnis

NEW YORK (AP) — He was nowhere in sight, but George McGinnis was the main topic of conversation Friday for two other pro basketball superstars, Rick Barry of the National Basketball Association Golden State Warriors and Artis Gilmore of the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association.

Barry, Gilmore and goaltender Bernie Parent of the National Hockey League champion Philadelphia Flyers were in town to pick up new cars—their rewards for being named the most valuable players in their respective playoffs.

Barry, who made the same trip between leagues a couple of years ago, thinks the NBA is making too much of a fuss over McGinnis' attempted jump from the ABA Indiana Pacers to the NBA New York Knicks.

And Gilmore, whose Kentucky Colonels beat McGinnis and the Pacers for the ABA title, believes big George would be better off staying right where he was, back home in Indiana.

Robby's Homers Lead Indians Over Rangers

CLEVELAND (AP) — If Frank Robinson could transfer to his players the ability he has, there would be little doubt that the Cleveland Indians would be a pennant contender.

However, he cannot explain himself what has given him the ability to walk to the plate in clutch situations and come up with the big hit.

Player-manager Robinson hit two, three-run home runs Friday night and led the Indians to a 7-5 victory over the Texas Rangers in American League baseball.

The first one came in the first inning and gave the Tribe a 3-0 lead and the second one brought the Indians from behind to the 7-5 winning margin in the eighth inning.

"I've thought about it, but I can't figure out why I am able to do what I do," said Robinson.

Moshannon Express Wins Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Moshannon Express won the feature race at Scioto Downs Friday night, handing favored Mcelwans Danger his first loss in 12 starts this season.

Moshannon Express toured the mile in 2:01 in its threequarters of a length victory and paid $19.40, $4 and $2.40. Mcelwans Danger returned $2.40 and $2.20 for second and Killbuck Mary, $2.20 for third.

The 6-8 daily double combination of Time Traffic and Miracle Mandy was worth $26.40.

A crowd of 7,817 wagered $472,836.

Cincinnati Bengals Sign 2 Players

CINCINNATI (AP) — John Tuttle, of Kansas State, and Elvin Charity, of Yale, have signed contracts with the Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League.

Tuttle, a wide receiver, was a 16th-round selection, while Charity, a defensive back, was picked in the 17th round.

The Bengals said the 14 rookies they have signed so far will join club veterans at their summer camp which opens July 13 at Wilmington College in Wilmington, Ohio.

Belmont Park racetrack in New York will have seven straight Sunday racing programs beginning June 8. The track will be closed on the following Tuesdays.

Marshall, L.A. Stop Philadelphia, 3-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS "Iron Mike" is back and a month off hasn't rusted his talents.

Mike Marshall, Los Angeles' fabulous relief pitcher, came back after a month's layoff Friday night and showed that he was as iron-clad as ever with a three-inning appearance that helped the Dodgers beat the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2.

"I felt as good as before," said the masterful Marshall after allowing just one hit in relief of starter Burt Hooton. "I'll be ready to pitch Saturday night."

Marshall, who pitched in 106 games last season to establish a major league record, has been troubled with an injured rib through most of this year. The burly right-hander first pulled a rib on his left side on April 19. He returned on May 3 and pitched three scoreless innings. Then on May 9, he pulled the rib again and sat on the sidelines until Friday night.

"It didn't hurt," said Marshall. "I believe it will hold this time, but you never know."

In the other National League games, it was: Atlanta 4, New York 1; Cincinnati 5, Chicago 1; Pittsburgh 7, San Francisco 2 and St. Louis 6, Houston 0. The San Diego-Montreal game was rained out.

Jimmy Wynn doubled and Ron Cey singled to give Los Angeles its winning run in the sixth inning. Hooton earned his fourth victory against five losses although he had to leave after six innings. He was facing Dick Allen when rain delayed the game for 50 minutes.

Braves 4, Mets 1

Phil Niekro fired a six-hitter and singled home a run to lead Atlanta over New York. The Braves' knuckleball pitcher got out of a bases-loaded jam in the ninth to preserve the victory.

Reds 5, Cubs 1 Don Gullett pitched a five-hitter and George Foster hit a two-run homer to lead Cincinnati past Chicago.

Pirates 7, Giants 2

Dave Parker and Richie Zisk hit home runs in a five-run sixth inning to power Pittsburgh past San Francisco.

Cardinals 6, Astros 0

Bob Forsch fired a two-hitter, leading St. Louis over Houston.

Carner Leads LPGA By 3

PINE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — Despite a "momentary lack of concentration" that cost her a double-bogie, JoAnne Carner entered today's round of a Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament here with a three-stroke lead.

Although she double-bogied when she hit her drive out of bounds on the first hole in Friday's opening round, she finished the day with a five-under par 68.

"There was no real reason for it," she said of the shot, "I just pulled it left."

But despite pouring rain, she wound up with four birdies and two eagles, one of them on a 65-putt at the 13th hole of All American Golf and Country Club here.

Trailing with 71s in the Girl Talk Magazine classic over the 6,200-yard course were Kathy Hite, Sandra Spuzich, Jane Blalock and Silvia Bertolaccini.

Belmont Stakes Field Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Foolish Pleasure and Master Derby were out to end the 1975 Triple Crown series with a 2-1 edge with a victory today in the $150,000-added Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park.

Kentucky Derby winner Foolish Pleasure and Master Derby, winner of the Preakness, were opposed by seven 3-year-olds, each carrying 126 pounds, in the 1½-mile test.

Post time was about 5:35 p.m., EDT, with television coverage by CBS scheduled for 5 p.m.-6 p.m.

Others entered in the 107th Belmont were Diabolo, Avatar, Prince Thou Art, Singh, Nalles Rialto and the entry of Just the Time and Syllabus.

The outsiders in the betting were Nalees Rialto, Just the Time and Syllabus.

The history of the Belmont is not studded with longshot winners—two were Sherluck, $132.10, in 1961 and Pass Catcher, $71, in 1971. But lots of long shots have made owners, trainers and bettors happy with second and third-place finishes.

Twice A Prince was given no chance of winning the 1973 Belmont. And he didn't, being trounced by 31 lengths by the great Secretariat. But his second-place finish was worth $33,044 to owner Max Gluck.

Last year, Jolly John earned $37,389 for Thomas Nichols and paid $15.40 and $7.80 after finishing second to favored Little Current.

"The Belmont is the only top 3-year-old race with a big question mark that gives a longshot a fighting chance," said Johnny Campo, who trained Twice A Prince and who trains Just the Time and Syllabus. "That question mark is the mile-and-a-half distance. Who can tell how even the outstanding favorites in the Belmont will take to the extra quarter-mile over the Derby distance? So you got a horse you feel can go a mile-and-a half, you take a shot with him, regardless of his record.

"Another reason for putting a horse who hasn't shown much before in the Belmont is that horses can't read prices, so they don't know they're supposed to be outclassed by the favorites, and they can surprise everyone. And then there's the fact that the Belmont is the truest run race you can find, no crowding, and plenty of room to make up ground."

Another reason, said Campo, is: "Without winning the race you can get a nice pay day."

Some others longshots who more than paid their way in the Belmont:

Sun Meadow, second at 20-1 in 1931, Mr. Bones, second at 25-1, and Hollywood, third at 30-1, in 1936; Belay, second at 40-1 in 1939; Cable, third at 45-1 in 1946; Blazing County, second at 38-1 in 1955; Fris Family, third at 40-1, in 1965, and Ruritania, second at 25-1, and Cloudy Dawn, third at 19-1 in 1972.

Aaron Spoils Ryan's No-Hitter

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer "If I'm going to give up a hit," Nolan Ryan drawled, "I might as well give it up to one of greatest hitters in the game. I can't think of anyone more appropriate."

That, of course, would be Henry Aaron.

"His job is to pitch and my job is to hit," Bad Henry philosophized.

For 5 2-3 innings Friday night, Ryan did his job as noboby but he can do it. Then Aaron did his...and ruined what might have been one of baseball's most historic nights.

For those 5 2-3 innings, California's 28-year-old flamethrower was gunning for two incredible records, trying to surpass Sandy Koufax' mark of five no-hitters in a career and equal Johnny Vander Meer's seemingly impossible feat of hurling two of them in succession.

Then Aaron, a notorious pullhitter, rifled a low curveball cleanly through the left side of the infield and, poof, it was all over.

Well, actually, not quite. Ryan, now 10-3, finished with a two-hitter, his second this year and the seventh of his career. And the Angels, thanks to Lee Stanton's four runs batted in, finished with a 6-0 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

In Friday night's other American League games, Detroit mauled Oakland 11-2, Boston outlasted Minnesota 13-10, New York beat Chicago 5-1, Cleveland defeated Texas 7-5 and Baltimore subdued Kansas City 3-2 in 11 innings.

While Ryan baffled Milwaukee, the Angels battered Jim Slaton, scoring four runs in the first inning, three on Stanton's bases-loaded double. Stanton then hit his fourth home run of the season off Slaton in the sixth.

Tigers 11, A's 2

While Ryan was doing his thing on the mound, so was Detroit's Mickey Lolich. He became baseball's all-time lefthanded strikeout artist with 2,586, surpassing Warren Spahn's 2,583, while Willie Horton drove in four runs—three with a homer—and Mickey Stanley belted a two-run shot in the Tigers' rout of Oakland.

Reds Sox 13, Twins 10

Boston's Dwight Evans drove in six runs with two homers, one of them his first career grand slam, to help the Red Sox outslug Minnesota.

Yankees 5, White Sox 1 Bobby Bonds' 13th homer of the season—a two-run shot in the second inning—boosted the Yanks to their sixth straight victory and left Chicago's Wilbur Wood, a 20-game winner the past four years, as the majors' first 10-game loser this season.

Indians 7, Rangers 5 Frank Robinson hit a pair of three-run homers, the latter in the eighth inning, to vault Cleveland past Ferguson Jenkins and the Rangers.

Orioles 3, Royals 2

Paul Blair's sacrifice fly in the 11th inning carried Baltimore past the Royals. Jim Northrup singled and moved to third on a sacrifice bunt and an error before Blair came through.

Big Ten May Play In Other Bowls

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Big Ten football teams may get the okay to play in bowl games other than the Rose Bowl when the University of Michigan's athletic board of control meets Tuesday to consider the proposal.

The move likely would be hailed at U-M, which had its appearance at the Rose Bowl blocked in 1973 by a controversial decision.

MOSQUITO LEAGUE

K of C 10, Mac's, 2

K of C scored in every inning as they downed Mac's in a Mosquito League tilt Friday at Ted Lewis Park.

Peter Kazmierczak and Eric Theis combined to hurl two-hit ball and strike out 13 for the winners.

Mark Morrison, Ben MacFadden and Jason Stonerock shared mound duties for Mac's. They gave up five hits and fanned 13.

Eric Theis led K of C with a double and two singles while Andy Emerson and Jay Sharrett each had a single.

Jason Stonerock and Ben MacFadden each had a single for Mac's.

LITTLE LEAGUE MINORS

First National Bank 3, Rotary 0

Tommy Tomlinson hurled a no-hitter and fanned 17 to lead the Bankers to victory over Rotary Friday at Ted Lewis Park.

Scott Oberly was on the hill for Rotary and struck out 10.

John Cordle struck the big blow for the Nats when he slammed a home run.

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Curb your innate aggressiveness now. Use more subtle tactics to get what you want. Wishes CAN be attained, but all will depend on your approach.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You now have greater freedom of movement and choice than you've had recently; can also expect some invaluable help from a member of the opposite sex.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Avoid entangling situations and decipher ambiguous statements slowly enough to eliminate errors. Clear the atmosphere so as to make sound decisions.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Lunar influences generous to all endeavors, but avoid impulsiveness. Especially favored: travel and outdoor interests.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Magnanimous feelings and good sound thinking should be stressed now. While day is friendly on the whole, it COULD be upset by "minor" errors, carelessness.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Mixed planetary influences. You may be faced with unevenness in some areas, unexpected setbacks, but keep on doing your best. Romance favored.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Quick decisions may now be required due to suddenly changed situations. Be ready to think and act—but without anxiety.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Seeking an easy solution to a complex problem may only compound the complications. Face up to it, tackle it as you should, and there'll be no sorry aftermath.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Stress your perceptiveness. A bit of shrewd observation will enable you to note certain new trends, obtain valuable information.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Avoid skepticism, doubt, pessimism. On the other hand, don't fall for any suggestions which common sense tells you have but dubious value.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): A day in which you could be error-prone, so give careful attention to details—especially in domestic matters.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Look for some unusually pleasant communications from those at a distance; also, new contacts which could prove invaluable in a business way.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with great inner strength and a sense of stability often lacking in many other Gemini's. You are studious, discriminating and progressive in your viewpoint. You have all the ardor, energy and enthusiasm of your Sign without the tendency to become easily bored and "run out of steam" before completing projects you have started. You are extremely versatile and are always willing to give time, energy and other assets in the cause of truly worthwhile achievement. Fields in which you could excel: literature, science, the law, aviation, architecture, all occupations involving travel, communications, dealings with large numbers of people. Birthdate of: Frank Lloyd Wright, world-famed architect.

Springnationals Sets Qualifying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Qualifying for the 11th Springnationals drag races continued today after world champion Gary Beck of Edmonton, Alta., set the pace in Top Fuel with a quarter-mile elapsed time of 6.11 seconds.

Beck, who won the 1974 Springnationals en route to his world points title, also had the best speed of the day at 227.84 miles per hour.

'Protection' Money Paid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Northrop Corp. paid $40,000 in 1972 as "protection" money intended for the former chief counsel to the House Armed Services Committee, a document in the possession of Senate investigators says.

Northrop consultant Frank J. DeFrancis is quoted as saying he began paying John Russell Blanford, the former committee counsel, $1,000 in cash per month after Blanford landed a defense contract for another firm that Northrop had wanted.

At the time, Blanford had just left the House staff to set up a Washington consulting practice, in which he used his valuable Pentagon contacts.

"Mr. DeFrancis said that he, in his judgment, deemed it advisable to employ Blanford for Northrop's 'protection,'" according to a memo written by a Northrop auditor.

DeFrancis then put Blanford on the payroll of an air charter company he controlled. Northrop investigators have said the conduit arrangement appears designed to "preserve the confidentiality of the relationship" with Northrop.

Blanford has been quoted as denying that he worked for Northrop. He was not available for comment.

The Blanford affair is among a number of disclosures contained in 530 pages of files from Northrop's internal investigation into questionable payments to consultants and sales agents.

The material was released Friday by the Senate subcommittee on multinational corporations, which holds public hearings on the matter next week.

Among the other disclosures: —Northrop secretly paid a retainer of $7,500 a year to retired French Air Force Gen. Paul Stehlin, who was forced to step down last year as vice president of the National Assembly after he said French Mirage jets were inferior to American competitors. Hours after the Northrop connection was exposed Friday, Stehlin was critically injured when struck by a bus as he crossed a street in the Paris Opera district.

—Northrop paid up to $75,000 a year to former Central Intelligence Agency official Kermit Roosevelt, grandson of President Theodore Roosevelt. Kermit Roosevelt is credited with restoring the Shah of Iran to his throne in 1953, and used his friendship with the Shah and other Middle Eastern leaders to promote Northrop's business interests.

—DeFrancis was quoted as saying he made cash payments to Franz Joseph Bach, a retired West German diplomat and onetime member of the German parliament. The dates and amounts of the sums are uncertain. Senate investigators are trying to determine whether the payments were made while Bach was still in parliament or later while he was in private business.

Bach also allegedly had a secret interest in a Swiss firm set up by Northrop to promote its products among "the right people" in world capitals. Northrop now owes $3.1 million to the firm, Economic and Development Corp.

Crash Injures Army Chief, Congressmen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Secretary of the Army Howard H. "Bo" Callaway and four congressmen have been injured in the collision of a logging truck and a bus that killed both drivers and left 11 persons hospitalized.

Beth, was hospitalized with multiple cuts and bruises.

Rep. Robert Jones, D-Ala., hospitalized in good condition with concussion, said he remembered only a loud noise.

"The next thing I remember is being in an ambulance with my wife on the way to the hospital," he said.

The bus was en route from the Columbus, Ga., airport to Callaway Gardens, a resort founded by Callaway's father, when it collided with the truck during a heavy rain Friday.

Witnesses said many of the seats on the bus were ripped from their fastenings and the passengers hurled forward. Callaway, who suffered a small facial cut, said it took 45 minutes to free some of the victims.

None of the 11 passengers hospitalized was reported in serious condition.

Also among the injured were Rep. John Flynt, D-Ga., who suffered fractured ribs; Rep. Walter Flowers, D-Ala., a concussion and chest contusions; and Rep. Tom Beville, D-Ala., multiple lacerations and contusions.

The others hospitalized included Mrs. Flynt, Mrs. Jones, and Carolyn Nichols, wife of Rep. William Nichols, D-Ala. Nichols was not aboard the bus. All the wives were reported in good condition. Mrs. Beville was treated for minor injuries and released.

The crash killed truck driver Glenn Harley of Union Springs, Ala., and bus driver Roy McKinney.

Callaway, the congressmen and others on the bus, many of them military men, were in Georgia to attend the dedication of the West Point Dam, an Army Corps of Engineers project on the Alabama-Georgia border.

Officials said the dedication would be held as scheduled today and Callaway said he still planned to officiate.

Others on the bus included Maj. Gen. John W. Morris, director of Civil Works for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers; Brig. Gen. Carroll N. Le Tellier of the South Atlantic Division of the Corps of Engineers; and Floyd Mann, former Alabama state public safety director. Mann was hospitalized with chest injuries. Morris was uninjured and Le Tellier was treated for cuts and bruises and released.

In Washington, Ed Slattery, a spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board, said the NTSB was taking over the investigation and had dispatched three investigators.

"I feel like I've been playing football all day and lost," Callaway said several hours after the crash. His wife,

Padding, Laxatives Help At Miss America Pageant

HAVERHILL, Iowa (AP) — Jean Bollhoefer, a 26-year-old farmer's daughter, has a few inside tips about competing in the Miss America Pageant.

Take a laxative before the bathing suit competition to flatten your tummy, grease your teeth with petroleum jelly to keep them shiny for the judges, and bring some padding, advises the outgoing Miss Iowa.

Masons Walkout Has Little Effect

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A strike by cement masons that began Thursday appeared to have little early effect on public works construction projects.

Some 500 masons went on strike around Ohio Friday, but no pickets appeared at job sites in Columbus.

The strike was called after negotiations between the Cement Masons Union and the Ohio Contractors Association broke off late Wednesday. The masons have been working without a contract for about a month.

An association spokesman said the talks stopped when the union reintroduced demands the association thought were already settled. However, the union said the demands weren't settled. A wage scale was also being discussed.

No new talks were scheduled.

Troy Daily News Sponsors Refugees

TROY, Ohio (AP) — The Troy Daily News with 10,700 circulation plans to sponsor a Vietnamese refugee family and have it settled in the community by mid-July.

"We just feel it's the right thing to do," said Joel Walker, editor and associate publisher. "These people are in this country and no matter what our economic or unemployment situation is, we must do what we can to help these people begin a new life."

Walker said he seriously started thinking about sponsoring a family after staff writer Kermit Vandivier returned from Ft. Chaffee, Ark., where he covered the arrival of the Vietnamese at the refugee camp.

Many of the details of bringing a family to Troy have been worked out, Walker said.

"We have a job lined up, we have secured temporary housing and we have over $2,000 in a special refugee resettlement fund," he said. "We also have numerous commitments from people in the community to help us."

She contends other beauty contests are "stock auctions" because the girls aren't competing for scholarships.

"Many people feel the Miss America program is like any other beauty contest, but it's not," she said. "The Miss USA contest is strictly high on the swim suit, how you look. It's not an all-around competition."

"The Miss America competition stresses interviews with judges. This is why many times you can't tell how a girl is going to look on television."

Miss Bollhoefer is 5-foot-7, wears braces on her teeth and was graduated with honors from Iowa State University in 1971. She says she won't marry "until I find someone not smarter than I am."

She was runnerup in the 1972 Miss Iowa contest, was invited to the 1973 Miss America pageant to sing at parties, then won the 1974 state title and made it to Atlantic City as a contestant.

She didn't finish among the top 10 finalists but believes she's qualified to speak candidly of "tricks of the trade."

"I received a $1,000 talent award (singing) and that's only because I out-talked reporters. I'm the only girl in 54 pageants to get flowers and green bananas — I love them — from the press."

"And I was too old to be nervous" in interviews with judges. "I told them downhome, funny things about being a farmer's daughter. Happiness is a habit and it's got to be cultivated every day."

But personality does it, she said — "Like my braces. I've had a ball with them. They're a tremendous conversation piece, and I get more miles and more laughs out of them."

Unseasonably cool weather is forecast to continue in Ohio through Sunday with nighttime lows in the high 40s and low 50s. Afternoon temperatures are expected to reach the 60s and low 70s.

Cool air was moving southward out of eastern Canada into Ohio early this morning. Temperatures were generally in the 50s with Mansfield and Dayton lowest at 52 degrees. The northerly flow of air was caused by a low pressure system over the northeastern United States and high pressure west of the Great Lakes.

It was overcast over extreme northeastern Ohio this morning, with some light showers. Partly cloudy skies blanketed the rest of the state.

Warren Students Hit With Drug Charges

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Nineteen persons from three Warren County high schools have been charged with selling a wide variety of drugs, according to Warren County Prosecutor Morris Turkelson.

Turkelson said 10 juveniles had been charged with 21 offenses, most involving sale of hallucinogens. Nine indictments handed down by a grand jury Thursday were related to drug investigations at Little Miami, Lebanon and Franklin high schools.

'Protection' Money Paid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Northrop Corp. paid $40,000 in 1972 as "protection" money intended for the former chief counsel to the House Armed Services Committee, a document in the possession of Senate investigators says.

Northrop consultant Frank J. DeFrancis is quoted as saying he began paying John Russell Blanford, the former committee counsel, $1,000 in cash per month after Blanford landed a defense contract for another firm that Northrop had wanted.

At the time, Blanford had just left the House staff to set up a Washington consulting practice, in which he used his valuable Pentagon contacts.

"Mr. DeFrancis said that he, in his judgment, deemed it advisable to employ Blanford for Northrop's 'protection,'" according to a memo written by a Northrop auditor.

DeFrancis then put Blanford on the payroll of an air charter company he controlled. Northrop investigators have said the conduit arrangement appears designed to "preserve the confidentiality of the relationship" with Northrop.

Blanford has been quoted as denying that he worked for Northrop. He was not available for comment.

The Blanford affair is among a number of disclosures contained in 530 pages of files from Northrop's internal investigation into questionable payments to consultants and sales agents.

The material was released Friday by the Senate subcommittee on multinational corporations, which holds public hearings on the matter next week.

Among the other disclosures: —Northrop secretly paid a retainer of $7,500 a year to retired French Air Force Gen. Paul Stehlin, who was forced to step down last year as vice president of the National Assembly after he said French Mirage jets were inferior to American competitors. Hours after the Northrop connection was exposed Friday, Stehlin was critically injured when struck by a bus as he crossed a street in the Paris Opera district.

—Northrop paid up to $75,000 a year to former Central Intelligence Agency official Kermit Roosevelt, grandson of President Theodore Roosevelt. Kermit Roosevelt is credited with restoring the Shah of Iran to his throne in 1953, and used his friendship with the Shah and other Middle Eastern leaders to promote Northrop's business interests.

—DeFrancis was quoted as saying he made cash payments to Franz Joseph Bach, a retired West German diplomat and onetime member of the German parliament. The dates and amounts of the sums are uncertain. Senate investigators are trying to determine whether the payments were made while Bach was still in parliament or later while he was in private business.

Bach also allegedly had a secret interest in a Swiss firm set up by Northrop to promote its products among "the right people" in world capitals. Northrop now owes $3.1 million to the firm, Economic and Development Corp.

DeFrancis was quoted as saying he made cash payments to Franz Joseph Bach, a retired West German diplomat and onetime member of the German parliament. The dates and amounts of the sums are uncertain. Senate investigators are trying to determine whether the payments were made while Bach was still in parliament or later while he was in private business.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unseasonably cool weather is forecast to continue in Ohio through Sunday with nighttime lows in the high 40s and low 50s. Afternoon temperatures are expected to reach the 60s and low 70s.

Cool air was moving southward out of eastern Canada into Ohio early this morning. Temperatures were generally in the 50s with Mansfield and Dayton lowest at 52 degrees. The northerly flow of air was caused by a low pressure system over the northeastern United States and high pressure west of the Great Lakes.

It was overcast over extreme northeastern Ohio this morning, with some light showers. Partly cloudy skies blanketed the rest of the state.

Warren Students Hit With Drug Charges

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Nineteen persons from three Warren County high schools have been charged with selling a wide variety of drugs, according to Warren County Prosecutor Morris Turkelson.

Turkelson said 10 juveniles had been charged with 21 offenses, most involving sale of hallucinogens. Nine indictments handed down by a grand jury Thursday were related to drug investigations at Little Miami, Lebanon and Franklin high schools.

Crash Injures Army Chief, Congressmen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Secretary of the Army Howard H. "Bo" Callaway and four congressmen have been injured in the collision of a logging truck and a bus that killed both drivers and left 11 persons hospitalized.

The bus was en route from the Columbus, Ga., airport to Callaway Gardens, a resort founded by Callaway's father, when it collided with the truck during a heavy rain Friday.

Witnesses said many of the seats on the bus were ripped from their fastenings and the passengers hurled forward. Callaway, who suffered a small facial cut, said it took 45 minutes to free some of the victims.

None of the 11 passengers hospitalized was reported in serious condition.

The crash killed truck driver Glenn Harley of Union Springs, Ala., and bus driver Roy McKinney.

Callaway, the congressmen and others on the bus, many of them military men, were in Georgia to attend the dedication of the West Point Dam, an Army Corps of Engineers project on the Alabama-Georgia border.

Officials said the dedication would be held as scheduled today and Callaway said he still planned to officiate.

"I feel like I've been playing football all day and lost," Callaway said several hours after the crash. His wife,

Beth, was hospitalized with multiple cuts and bruises.

Rep. Robert Jones, D-Ala., hospitalized in good condition with concussion, said he remembered only a loud noise.

"The next thing I remember is being in an ambulance with my wife on the way to the hospital," he said.

Also among the injured were Rep. John Flynt, D-Ga., who suffered fractured ribs; Rep. Walter Flowers, D-Ala., a concussion and chest contusions; and Rep. Tom Beville, D-Ala., multiple lacerations and contusions.

The others hospitalized included Mrs. Flynt, Mrs. Jones, and Carolyn Nichols, wife of Rep. William Nichols, D-Ala. Nichols was not aboard the bus. All the wives were reported in good condition. Mrs. Beville was treated for minor injuries and released.

Others on the bus included Maj. Gen. John W. Morris, director of Civil Works for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers; Brig. Gen. Carroll N. Le Tellier of the South Atlantic Division of the Corps of Engineers; and Floyd Mann, former Alabama state public safety director. Mann was hospitalized with chest injuries, Morris was uninjured and Le Tellier was treated for cuts and bruises and released.

In Washington, Ed Slattery, a spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board, said the NTSB was taking over the investigation and had dispatched three investigators.

Padding, Laxatives Help At Miss America Pageant

HAVERHILL, Iowa (AP) — Jean Bollhoefer, a 26-year-old farmer's daughter, has a few inside tips about competing in the Miss America Pageant.

Take a laxative before the bathing suit competition to flatten your tummy, grease your teeth with petroleum jelly to keep them shiny for the judges, and bring some padding, advises the outgoing Miss Iowa.

"I've never seen so much padding in my life as I did when I got to Atlantic City," she said. She admitted that she took some of her own to the pageant last September.

"It's a show for the American public, sure, but if you've got any brain at all, you can use it to your best advantage and not let them use you," she said in a recent interview.

Miss Bollhoefer insists she isn't beautiful in the traditional sense.

"Not the external part of me. You do have to be attractive, but it's the personality that's most important."

She contends other beauty contests are "stock auctions" because the girls aren't competing for scholarships.

"Many people feel the Miss America program is like any other beauty contest, but it's not," she said. "The Miss USA contest is strictly high on the swim suit, how you look. It's not an all-around competition."

"The Miss America competition stresses interviews with judges. This is why many times you can't tell how a girl is going to look on television."

Miss Bollhoefer is 5-foot-7, wears braces on her teeth and was graduated with honors from Iowa State University in 1971. She says she won't marry "until I find someone not smarter than I am."

She was runnerup in the 1972 Miss Iowa contest, was invited to the 1973 Miss America pageant to sing at parties, then won the 1974 state title and made it to Atlantic City as a contestant.

She didn't finish among the top 10 finalists but believes she's qualified to speak candidly of "tricks of the trade."

"I received a $1,000 talent award (singing) and that's only because I out-talked reporters. I'm the only girl in 54 pageants to get flowers and green bananas — I love them — from the press."

"And I was too old to be nervous" in interviews with judges. "I told them downhome, funny things about being a farmer's daughter. Happiness is a habit and it's got to be cultivated every day."

But personality does it, she said — "Like my braces. I've had a ball with them. They're a tremendous conversation piece, and I get more miles and more laughs out of them."
